Graduate CV Example

A fictional example showing how a graduate can present relevant evidence.

Alex Morgan | Graduate project assistant

Fictional example: replace every detail with your own information.

alex@example.com | [Phone] | [Location]

Profile

Business graduate with experience coordinating a student research project and supporting a community event. Confident organising tasks, preparing clear notes and working with a small team.

Relevant experience

Student research project | Team coordinator

Created a shared task tracker and agreed weekly milestones with four classmates.

Combined survey findings into a concise presentation delivered by the deadline.

Community event | Volunteer

Helped organise attendee information and answered visitor questions.

Education and skills

[Degree], [Institution], [Dates]

Relevant modules: project planning, communication and data analysis.

Skills: task organisation, spreadsheet basics, presentation and teamwork.

Use specific, truthful achievements; do not copy the example as personal experience.